Whether or not Harris oid take poison, there have been several occurrences which seem to justify the starting of such a rumor. To an "Evening World" reporter this morning Warden Durston said:

"I do not believe that Harris did take anything with suicidal intent. Dr. Irvine and myself both examined him thoroughly, and neither of us could find any indication of his having made any such attempt.

"There were, however, suspicious circum stances that did and still do demand investigation. It is true that the keyhole of the lock in Harris's cell door was stuffed up with paper that had been chewed and that it took over an hour to unlock the door.

"Just who stopped up the lock and for what purpose it was done. I shall make it my business to find out. Dr. Irvine was not summoned to Harris's cell that night, and we have no reason to think that Harris took."
